

HB 6617

OPPOSE.

So someone is in financial straights and on state assistance (paid for by working tax payers). By virtue of this bill, they have been unable to conceive naturally and you are seeking to have my tax payer dollars fund their fertility? You are seeking to promote them raising a family when they are currently unable to financially take care of themselves? And you want my tax dollars to support this? And who will support this family after the child is born? Please stop the insanity.

Perhaps my tax dollars could be better spent finding a way to get people to be self-sufficient, self-reliant and productive members of our society.
